PLAYER SUMMARY

Summary/Action

Strong solid high school player that has a chance to play into college and beyond. Body growing and developing but this will be a physical specimen when all is said and done. Arm strength is there but needs to get on consistent throwing program. Bat can be special and will most likely be his carry tool. Power and ability to hit will set him well apart from his peers. Needs to focus on making consistent hard contact. Looking to hit ball hard gap to gap. Learning to hit ball where it is pitched will be critical in his development. This young man has a chance in this game and he needs to stay with it.
