PLAYER SUMMARY

Summary/Action

With true Shortstop actions, Carson is an athletic and explosive player on both sides of the ball. Long and lean athletic body with a quick first step and aggressive and heads up on the bases make him an asset to any team at the top of the order. Currently has the ability to play defense at next level, with raw arm strength gradable on pro scale, he shows projectable potential to be an impact player at next level and beyond. Carson's development as an offensive player will ultimately dictate his career path, as a quality defender, he needs to keep on same consistent path and approach at the plate, letting his power, occasional gap power, develop naturally in addition to a consistency associated with the classic top of the order/leadoff hitter.
