PLAYER SUMMARY

Summary/Action

Compact athletic body Lefthanded pitcher; well above average free arm action with a loose wrist that gives him an above average rotation curveball as a future out pitch; shows action to a change up that he throws very little; will always be physically compact but can offset that with being athletic and left handed; is now more of a thrower than a pitcher; with work and development could surprise a lot of people; with work and development we see this player as a Small College/Junior College Starting Pitcher
